An irreverent journey to peace and understanding, LoveSight nudges readers to take a look at, through whimsy, humor and a few tears, the truth of who they are: Angels being human. The story is told from the perspective of Professor Keyla, an esteemed teacher of first-time angels incarnating on Earth, who uses a human grandmother's journals about her only grandchild's brain tumor as fodder for debunking the religious and spiritual overlays keeping humans stuck in illness, fear and sadness. You will be challenged to evaluate your beliefs, your perceptions and what you call your truths in this touching, humorous and thought-provoking story. Let Prof and her students lead you to a deep understanding of your health, your perspectives and how they shape your world, and the choice which is always yours.
